- To comply with all local, national and international laws and regulations that we are liable for the environment.
  - To carry out environmental studies by taking into consideration the relevant parties and their needs.
    - Within the scope of ship design, new construction and maintenance activities, to establish and sustain systems based on the efficient use of the environment and natural resources, accepting the duty of increasing the environmental awareness of the individuals, institutions and organizations that we directly and indirectly interact in our business lines and fulfilling our environmental responsibilities towards local and regional neighbors.
      - While preparing the projects related to the products and processes, to try to prevent the pollution by considering the environmental effects.
      - To take measures to reduce the expenditure of resources such as electricity, fuel and water consumption and to achieve sustainable development by setting targets every year.
      - To take measures to reduce the solid, liquid and gaseous wastes generated during our activities in order to protect biodiversity, ecosystems and the atmosphere. To try to implement reuse or recovery facilities.
      - To plan and implement measures to minimize environmental accidents in case of any accident and emergency that might occur during our activities.
      - To educate all shipyard and subcontractor workers to raise awareness and individual responsibility in these matters.
      - Working together with our national and local governmental organizations, other industrial organizations and suppliers, to raise our environmental standards together.

We commit ourselves to comply with this codes of practice together with all our employees in order to “continuously improve our environmental performance”.
